

Where to eat

There are many, many places to eat in San Antonio and just like the hotel reviews and recommendations most folks have differing views, opinions and experiences at the area restaurants. In an effort to help our AFWM family find the best place for them we are now recommending that you utilize a site such as UrbanSpoon.com (There is also an app if you have a smart phone.) UrbanSpoon (and similar sites) include reviews and recommendations as well as general restaurant info so it's a great way to find what you are looking for. YOU can help out future AFWM families by submitting your review!

We are not affiliated with any of the restaurants but we'd appreciate it if you'd mention that you are a part of AFWM. We are hoping that if enough members mention our name we might be able to work out a future discount for our members.
